

A photograph of a steep, rocky cliff face with a red line indicating a climbing route. The route starts at a white dot at the bottom left, goes up and right, then curves left and up, then right and up, and finally curves left and up to a second white dot at the top. Two yellow boxes with the text '5+/6-' are placed along the route. A third yellow box with the text 'Somewhere over the Rainbow' is placed near the bottom right. A person is visible at the bottom left, near the start of the route.
